

Job Title: Interior Designer

About InUnison Design:

Our design studio is located in a newly remodeled office at International Market Square, the cornerstone of the Creative Corridor in Minneapolis. Our team was honored to oversee the facility design of this beautiful, light filled building with free parking and daily D’Amico lunch.

As our name suggests, the InUnison process is collaborative, harmonious, and award winning. We create, direct, and manage, the right team – and the right process – for every project. We are a firm that values our partners: clients, architects, trades people and developers.

Whether we’re designing innovative workplaces, retail environments, restaurants, or homes every project is informed by our passion for beauty and our commitment to quality, sustainability, and value.

Our core values are not only important to us but assist in making us unique. They include professionalism, client centric, commitment to personal growth, and community.
